2. BACKGROUND TO PLAYBOARD

Introduction

PlayBoard is an independent charity and lead organisation for the development and promotion of children and young people's play in Northern Ireland. PlayBoard works to improve the quality of children and young people's lives through the provision of innovative services, all of which are designed to strengthen service delivery through information, support, training and tailored play provision.

PlayBoard has been committed to supporting children and young people's right to play since its establishment in 1985. Over the last 39 years the organisation has grown and developed both its standing and remit. To achieve its vision the organisation works through an extensive combination of:

- Service delivery and service development
- Campaigning and lobbying
- Research, evaluation and awareness raising
- Working in partnership with others to put play on the agenda of policy makers and resource providers, and
- Promoting best practice in Play and Playwork.

A membership organisation, PlayBoard work closely with and provides support to over 1,700 members, all of whom are committed to helping us to achieve our goal of developing quality play opportunities that improve children and young people's lives across Northern Ireland and beyond.

As a rights-based organisation, we strongly believe that play is an intrinsic aspect of children and young people's lives. PlayBoard works from the premise that play is fundamental to a healthy and happy childhood. Play challenges and informs our understanding of children and young people because it views them as competent and confident human beings.

This position is further endorsed by the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC, 1989). Article 31 declares:

"States Parties recognise the right of the child to rest and leisure, to engage in play and recreational activities appropriate to the age of the child and to participate fully in cultural life and the arts. States Parties shall respect and promote the right of the child to participate fully in cultural and artistic life and shall encourage the provision of appropriate and equal opportunities for cultural, artistic, recreational and leisure activity".

In our strategic planning phase, we seek to use our growing sphere of influence to convene ever more allies and partners. We seek to act as a catalyst for change and in doing so we shall harness the expertise and energy of our staff and volunteers to assist us in establishing lasting relationships with commissioners, council's policy makers and resource providers.

We wish to become known as an organisation that is underpinned by integrity and quality, an organisation that is outcome focused and solution orientated, that at all times operates in the best interests of its members, stakeholders and ultimately the children it seeks to serve.

We understand that in the current context of political and economic instability that we need to be proactive and sufficiently agile so that we can best address emergent needs.

Our Vision

- A society where the right to play is both valued and realised

Our Mission

- Leading the play agenda

Our Values

Our values define us as an organisation and guide our behaviour. Our values underpin our operational delivery and shape the strategies we pursue.

We believe that play is a fundamental right of childhood and is central to children and young people's development.

We recognise, respect and value the voices of children and young people, putting their play needs at the core of everything that we do.

We value and welcome the views of others and are committed to working collaboratively to drive the play agenda;

We respect and embrace difference.

We welcome challenge and embrace change.

We support, value and respect each other.

3. BACKGROUND TO OUR GENERATION

'Our Generation' (OG) – the path to emotional resilience, empathy and understanding. Building peace through emotional resilience in post-conflict Ireland.

OG will provide activities involving cross community and cross-border multi-partner collaborative approaches, which will lead to improved understanding of youth mental health and wellbeing issues and the sharing of best practice across the Programme Area to improve service delivery.

OG will enhance the capacity of children and young people to form positive and effective relationships with others of a different background and make a positive contribution to the creation of a cohesive society. Resulting in an increase in the percentage of the youth population in receipt of best practice mental health support, which enhance emotional resilience contributing to peace and reconciliation across the Programme Area.

OG is a partnership of nine cross-border organisations are to support communities to tackle post-conflict resilience and peace building throughout Northern Ireland and the Border Region of Ireland.

The partnership, led by Action Mental Health, has been awarded funding through the European Union's PEACEPLUS Programme, managed by the Special EU Programmes Body (SEUPB), to build positive relations and emotional resilience in communities impacted by four decades of the Troubles/Conflict across the island of Ireland.

Along with PlayBoard NI and Action Mental Health, the other regional organisations involved are in the delivery of the OG programme are, Donegal Youth Service, Co-Operation Ireland, Youth Action NI, Youthwork Ireland, PlayBoard NI, Ulster University, Boys and Girls Clubs NI and Include Youth.

OG will build peace through improved mental health & emotional wellbeing. The project will increase the mental health literacy, enhance emotional resilience & build leadership skills of children and young people (C&YP) & build capacity of key youth workers (youth workers, teachers & school aged childcare practitioners & other working/volunteering in relevant settings) across the eligible region.

38,000 will attend Joint Training Schemes (JTSs), with 25,500 C&YP & 3,000 key youth workers completing them. In doing so, C&YP will have the confidence to form positive & effective relationships with others of different backgrounds & create opportunities for them to play an active role in improving good relations & building peace for future generations.

OG aligns with All-Ireland policy providing strategic outcomes across health, education, C&YP & good relations, & contributing to overarching governmental strategies.

The need & demand for the project actions is evidenced in recent studies, which illustrate the need to improve the mental health of C&YP and community relationships and in so doing necessitates a cross border interregional approach to bring people & communities together.

PlayBoard's programme is focused on the critical role of play as a means of supporting both the development of childhood resilience and as a mechanism for positively addressing differences at individual, familial and cross-community level.

In terms of resilience, research has highlighted the importance of play in offering children access to opportunities to build characteristics closely associated with high levels of resilience. These include the ability to adapt to distinct or changing circumstances/set-backs etc. and recover from same; the ability to learn and grow from mistakes, challenges and difficult situations enhancing both mental and physical capacity to cope with stress and adversity; the capacity to develop positive self-concept and high self-esteem.

From a cross-community perspective, despite perceived differences, the one unifying factor for all children and young people throughout childhood is play. Children and young people's lives' are full of play opportunities and it is through these play opportunities that children learn about others, explore difference and better understand the world around them. Through play they are able to develop the skills required for competence in cognitive, creative and social spheres. Critically, in play all children are equal, and it is through the act of play that children and young people's learning in cooperation and conflict resolution begins.

PlayBoard's many years of playwork and peace building experience and practice working with children, young people and communities across Northern Ireland. Through a range of practical and playful exercises the focuses on the creation of innovative 'shared spaces' and building reconciliation through play.

groups will be partnered on a cross-community basis and will together explore the role of play in supporting resilience and enhancing community relations.

Key elements of delivery will include delivery of focused cross-community play sessions exploring similarity and difference; training for staff within each participating group, parent's sessions focused on the importance of play as a means of supporting children to develop resilience etc.

key aspects of the programme will include:

1. Delivery of training for staff within participating groups, supporting the exploration of difference and promotion of cross-community understanding, alongside play based approaches to developing resilience in childhood
2. The running of joint, cross-community play sessions between partner groups within each area based on the approaches helping to address childhood perceptions of difference in a positive manner through play-based activities and helping to establish cross-community social connections and friendships
3. Joint parent/carer sessions will be delivered aimed at supporting parents attached to participating groups to gain a greater understanding of the importance of play from the perspective of developing resilience and exploring wider aspects of diversity and cross-community connection.

Sessions will include the provision of practical play skills and activities which have been shown to support the development of childhood reliance from age 3 and upwards

We would encourage you to visit our website to get a flavour of PlayBoard's spaces to be project, during Peace IV.

Criteria based selection tests applicants against a set of criteria, which have been drawn up and agreed as being necessary for a specific post. The criterion details the knowledge, skills and competences that an individual will need to possess to be effective.

The 'Person Specification' details the criteria for the post. The essential criteria reflect what an applicant must possess in order to apply. Essential Criteria may thus be regarded as 'eligibility' criteria. Individuals must demonstrate that they satisfy all of these criteria fully in order to be shortlisted.

The aim of the application form is for you to demonstrate your ability to meet each of the criteria listed above and you must provide specific examples including dates of how you meet these criteria.

6. THE APPLICATION PROCESS

Application Form Guidance

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION PROVIDES GUIDANCE ON COMPLETING YOUR APPLICATION. PLEASE READ THIS INFORMATION CAREFULLY BEFORE SUBMITTING YOUR APPLICATION

The application form is designed to ensure that applicants provide the necessary information to determine how they meet the requirements of the post and the shortlisting criteria. ALL sections of the application form should be completed.

Drawing upon all of your experience from work or on a voluntary basis and using the Person Specification, consider how your skills, experience and abilities relate to each criteria required for this post.

In responding to the criteria below, it is essential that you describe fully how and to what extent you meet the experience sought by providing clear information and examples.

It is not appropriate to simply list various posts you have held with no examples or descriptions of the experience gained as the selection panel will not make assumptions on job titles or the nature of the organisation as to the experience gained. Short listing for this post will be undertaken using only the information you have provided in response to each criteria below

Please remember it is the quality of the examples given along with precise details of where and when the experience was gained which matter, not the length of the response.

PlayBoard will not accept CVs, letters, or any other supplementary material in place of or in addition to completed application forms unless you are requested to provide it.

The space available on the application form is the same for all applicants and must not be altered.

Applicants must complete the application form in either typescript font size 12, or if handwritten in legible block capitals using black ink.

Information in support of your application will not be accepted after the closing date for receipt of applications.

Do not use acronyms, complex technical detail etc. Write for the reader who may not know your employer or your job.

Write down clearly your personal involvement in any experience you quote. Write "I" statements e.g. I planned meetings, I managed a budget, I prepared a presentation. It is how you actually carried out a piece of work that the panel will be interested in

The examples you provide should be concise and relevant to the criteria. This is very important as the examples which you provide may be checked out at interview and you may need to be prepared to talk about these in detail if you are invited to interview. It is your unique role the panel are interested in, not that of your team or organisation.

PlayBoard will not make assumptions from the title of the applicant's post or the nature of the organisation as to the skills and experience gained. If you do not provide sufficient detail, including the appropriate dates needed to meet the criteria, the selection panel will reject your application.

ONLY the details provided by you in your application form (Section 2 Employment History, Section 4 Essential Criteria.) will be provided to the selection panel for the purpose of determining your eligibility for the post, so they won't know who you are or what you have done. It is up to you to tell them what you have done in meeting the Essential Criteria.

General information

Shortlisting

The selection panel will meet to review the completed application forms in relation to the essential criteria. Only those applicants who fully and clearly demonstrate on their application form how they meet each of the essential criteria will be shortlisted. The selection panel reserves the right to apply the desirable criteria in the order specified to reduce the pool of candidates to a manageable number for interview stage and interview only those candidates that it believes best meet the selection criteria.

Interviews

Shortlisted candidates will be invited to a panel interview to explore the competencies as set out in the essential criteria. It is intended that interviews for this post will take place face to face within PlayBoard's office. Shortlisted candidates will receive information prior to interview. PlayBoard will do all it can to ensure the safety and wellbeing of all candidates invited for interview.

Interviews will not normally be rescheduled to accommodate applicants who are unable to attend on the agreed date. Reschedules will be entirely at the discretion of the panel. If an applicant fails to present herself/himself for interview, at the allocated time, it will be deemed that they have withdrawn from the process.

Equality of opportunity

PlayBoard are committed to a policy of equality of opportunity in its employment practices and aims to ensure that no actual or potential job applicant or employee is discriminated against, either directly or indirectly, on the grounds of gender, marital status, disability, race, community background or political persuasion, age, dependants, sexual orientation or trade union membership.

PlayBoard are committed to equality of opportunity and welcomes applications from suitably qualified people from all sections of the community. All applications for employment are considered strictly on the basis of merit.

In accordance with Fair Employment regulations, you are required to complete a monitoring form. This information is used to assist us in completing annual returns to the Equality Commission, and access to this information is strictly limited.

Equality monitoring is the process of collecting, storing and analysing information that is relevant to and necessary for the purpose of promoting equality of opportunity between different categories of persons. This section sets out what information is collected, the reasons for doing so and what it is used for.

You should note that the Monitoring Form is regarded as part of your application and failure to fully complete and return it will result in disqualification. The Monitoring Form will be processed separately and neither the form nor the details contained in it will be available to those considering your application or anyone other than the HR person dealing with the process.

Order of Merit

The selection panel will assess applicants against the interview criteria. Those applicants who meet the required standard(s) and pass mark will be deemed suitable for appointment. The selection panel will then list those suitable for appointment in order of merit with the highest scoring applicant ranked first.

PlayBoard will allocate an applicant to a vacancy in the order listed. The order of merit is valid for 12 months.

Canvassing

Any attempt on the part of a candidate to enlist support for their application through any person, except as a named referee, will disqualify that candidate from the process.

Canvassing means contact or communication at any time in any manner to anyone involved in the recruitment process of the post for which they are applying.

Access NI enables organisations in Northern Ireland to make more informed recruitment decisions by providing criminal history information about anyone seeking paid or unpaid work in certain defined areas, such as working with children or vulnerable adults.

The check will tell us if you have a criminal record, or if your name is included in the Independent Safeguarding Authority Barred Lists. Further details in relation to legislative requirements can be accessed on www.nidirect.gov.uk/vetting or www.accessni.org.uk.

Criminal Record information is subject to the provisions of the Rehabilitation of Offenders (NI) Order 1978

7. INTERVIEW GUIDANCE FOR APPLICANTS

The Competency Based Interview process is designed to help you to present relevant evidence to enable the decision makers to evaluate 'fit' against the requirements of a particular role. Relevant evidence is usually, but not exclusively, drawn from your work experience and the way in which you have accomplished a range of activities or projects.

The information you provide will be evaluated against the specific skills and competencies required for effective performance in the role. Make sure you give enough detail so that panel members understand what you actually did not make assumptions that they may understand you demonstrate a skill at the right level just because of your current role, length of experience or educational qualifications.

If this is your first experience of a competence-based interview, bear in mind that it does not require you to:

- Talk through previous jobs or appointments from start to finish.
- Provide generalised information as to your background and experience; or
- Provide information that is not specifically relevant to the competence the question is designed to test.

A competence-based interview does however require you to:

- Focus exclusively, in your responses, on your ability to fulfil the competences required for effective performance in the role; and
- Provide specific examples of your experience in relation to the required competence areas.

In preparation for the interview, you may wish to think about having a clear structure for each of your examples, such as:

- Situation – briefly outline the situation.
- Task – what was your objective, what were you trying to achieve.
- Action – what did you actually do, what was your unique contribution; and
- Result – what happened, what was the outcome, what did you learn.

The panel will ask you to provide specific examples from your past experience in relation to each of the competences. You should therefore come to the interview prepared to discuss in detail a range of examples which best illustrate your skills and abilities in each competence area. You may draw examples from any area of your work / life experiences.

- Give specific examples - most questions will ask you to describe an example of when you have demonstrated a skill. Try to do this concisely but with enough detail so that the panel will be clear about what you actually did and how you did it. This detail might include information about timescales, the number of people involved etc.
- For example, if a question is about your approach to decision making, you need to do more than describe your current role and list important decisions you have made. You will need to describe how you reached that relevant decision.
- Give a range of examples – if possible, base your answers on different situations or challenges you faced rather than rely on just one experience. This helps the panel to evaluate how you tackle different challenges and not just your behaviour in a 'one off' situation. However, one example can be used to demonstrate competence in a number of areas.
- Be concrete rather than theoretical – a clear description of how you actually behaved in a particular situation (and why) can be more useful to the panel than a vague or general description of what you consider to be desirable attributes.

Good luck.
